A statement which has been published that the disbursing officers of the Freedmen's Bureau are paying bounty in full upon the receipts of claimants, the said receipts being furnished by anybody, are incorrect. Every dollar due claimants is paid to them in person, and any deviation from this rule would be totally without authority from Gen. Howard.

Secretary McCulloch has determined not to remain in office after next March. He is endeavoring to leave the Department in as good a condition as possible for his successor.

Mr. Defrees, Public Printer, is in receipt of a great many letters asking for employment. He says he cannot accommodate any more of the craft.

It is said that the appointments for foreign offices will be left to Mr. Colfax, who will no doubt recommend editors, authors and men of letters for most positions. Most of the Internal revenue appointments will be given to soldiers.

The wedding of Speaker Colfax and Miss Wade takes place at Andover, Ohio, on Wednesday next.

The amount of coin in the Treasury at this date, is about 87,000,000 of dollars, of which $22,000,000 are represented by gold certificates.

Many persons have arrived here from various States, seeking Government employment. Instead of increasing, the Departments are diminishing their forces, and therefore there is no prospect of success.

Contested Election Cases—Destructive Fire—Forepaugh's Menagerie Destroyed.

PHILADELPHIA, November 14.—In the contested election cases before the Court of Common Pleas to-day, a motion was made by the Democratic lawyers to quash the petitions, on the ground that the affidavits are defective. The Court fixed Friday next for the argument on the motion.

A fire occurred this evening in the saw mill of Rosecoe, Clark & Co., in the northwest part of the city. It was entirely destroyed. Loss estimated at $35,000; small insurance. The adjoining building, used for wintering Forepaugh's menagerie, was partly destroyed. Several valuable animals were consumed, and others escaped into the street, causing great alarm, but did no damage.

A large African lion was caught in the street by throwing over him a box used for mixing mortar. A leopard rushed into a house where there were several women and children, but the beast was as much frightened as the humans and took refuge in the cellar without biting any one.

PHILADELPHIA, November 15.—The loss by the burning of Forepaugh's Menagerie, last night, is about $45,000, on which there was no insurance. None of the animals were burned, but a large number of expensive show wagons, tents, etc., were entirely destroyed. The loss on Roscoe & Clark's mill is about $18,000; partially insured.

This morning a building on North Seventh street, used as a United States mint for nearly forty years, was destroyed by fire. Loss small.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, November 14, 1868.

ACCIDENT TO A FERRY BOAT—LOSS OF LIFE.

The following particulars show the cause of the accident to the ferry boat on Saturday: The Hamilton left her slip on the Brooklyn side at 7:20 with a great number of passengers, and as she neared the New York side encountered the flood tide. She was headed down stream in order to meet the counter tide and enter the slip. At this time it is alleged a Southern propeller, which was endeavoring to enter a neighboring slip, let go her stern line and swung around, thus blocking up the entrance to the Fulton Ferry slip. The helmsman of the Hamilton then headed his boat between the propeller and Bulkhead, in order to enter the slip. There was not sufficient room between the propeller and the pier, and it at once became evident that a collision was unavoidable. The propeller scarcely moved, and in a moment the Hamilton crashed against the ferry boat Union, which lay chained in a slip adjoining her own. About one thousand passengers were on board the Hamilton, coming to their business in the city, fully one-half of whom had crowded to the forward part of the boat. This large number caused the forward deck of the Hamilton to sink several inches below the guards of the Union, which latter boat had a light load on board. The momentum of the Hamilton carried her guards under those of the Union. The forward deck of the Hamilton was very densely packed with passengers, and the warning was so brief that it was impossible for them to retreat, and a number were caught between the guards of the two boats as they overlapped, and were terribly crushed. The ladies' cabin of the Hamilton was crushed in and the scene became heartrending beyond description. Terrified women and children screamed for help, while the cheeks of strong men were blanched with fear. For a moment those in the cabin expected to see the boat go down or be crushed. An effort was made by many of the passengers in the cabins to reach the shore, believing the boat was about to sink, and several persons were knocked down and trampled on. Five persons were killed or mortally wounded, and twenty seriously injured.

RECRUITING FOR CUBA CHASED.

Recruiting for the Cuban expedition, it is said, has ceased in this city, Colonel Gibbons having already enrolled 6,500 men, which is 1,500 more than he wants. He alleges that the whole command is to devolve upon a wealthy Havanese, who is famous as a military leader under Don Carlos and Maximilian, and who so far has furnished all the funds necessary. The intention is to annex Cuba to the United States. A public meeting is to be held in relation to the matter in Cooper Institute.

Roth and John E. Townsend, were arrested on the spot.

Between twelve and one o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in the rear of the dining rooms of the Stuart House, No. 480 Broadway. It is supposed to have caught from a furnace in the rear of the dining rooms on the first floor. The flames spread to the second and upper story with such rapidity as to cut off the egress of lodgers and they were rescued by the firemen with ladders. Mr. Stuart occupied the first, second and third stories of 478 and 480, which were completely gutted. His loss on furniture and stock is about $30,000; fully insurred. Meteoric Showers in Washington, Richmond, Fortress Monroe, Louisville, Charleston San Francisco and other places—Official Report from Commodore Sands, Superintendent of the Naval Observatory.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, November 14, 1868.—Following is the official report from Commodore Sands, Superintedent of the Naval Observatory, in regard to the moteoric shower, received at the Navy Department this afternoon:

U. S. NAVAL OBSEVATORY,
WASHINGTON, NOV. 14, 1868.

SIR:—I have the honor to submit the following preliminary report of the meteoric shower of this morning. During the evening of the 13th inst., there were no greater number of meteors to be seen than are usually observed on clear nights until about eleven o'clock, when there seemed to be an increase in numbers and brilliancy, though not sufficient to indicate the beginning of a shower. At midnight the number had considerably increased, and the prevalence of trains was generally noted. At thirty-five minutes past midnight Prof. Eastman and Messrs. Harrison, Frisby and Hays, began to count meteors and to plot the tracks of the principal ones that appeared in that portion of the heavens covered by the star chart constructed at the Observatory in 1867. At one hour and thirty-five minutes A.M. 300 meteors had been counted, most quite brilliant, and nearly all of them leaving green, blue or red trains. Thus far the display had not been confined to any portion of the sky, but most of them were in the northern and southern heavens, and scarcely any in apposition to the place in the star chart. Many of the trains were visible several minutes. One lasted ten minutes, and the track of one near Ursa Minor was seen thirty minutes after the appearance of the meteor. After one hour and fifty minutes Professor Eastman, assisted by Mr. Harrison, devoted his time to mapping and noting the time of apparition of the principal meteors, and succeeded in sketching tracks of about 90. During one hour and forty-three minutes 400 had been counted, and afterwards the succe-sive hundreds were observed in the following intervals. [The intervals are here given by Commodore Sands.] The observations were continued till after six o'clock in the morning, at which time there had been counted five thousand and seventy-eight. At two hours and twenty minutes A. M., Professor Mores and son joined the party of observation, and assisted in counting meteors in the western heavens. During the whole display there were many meteors seen in the west, but from four o'clock till five the numbers were about equal in the east and west. The time of maximum frequency was about five hours, when they fell at the rate of about two thousand per hour. The radiant point was quite well defined during the latter end of the shower, and found by estimation to be about one hundred and forty-nine degrees in right ascension and twenty-two minutes thirty seconds in declination. The trains were unusually brilliant, presenting the various green, blue, orange and red, &c., remained visible for an unusual time, frequently as many as five could be seen at once presenting an appearance when nearly dissipated of light cirrus clouds. The shower commenced several hours before it was expected, as it was predicted last year it would be seen in 1868 in the Pacific Ocean. Only a few star charts were distributed a number of days ago to the various Observatories and Pacific men of the country, and it is likely many valuable observations have been made, of which we shall soon learn.

Very respectfully, your obd't servant,
B. F. SANDS, Superintendent.

NEW YORK, November 14.—Dispatches from Harvard, Poughkeepsie, Fortress Monroe and Richmond mention a brilliant meteoric display during the night.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 14.—An extraordinary meteoric shower took place last night, commencing about half-past ten o'clock at night and lasted until an early hour this morning. The general direction appeared to be from east to west.

CHARLESTON, S. C., November 14.—A brilliant meteoric shower was observed here this morning.

LOUISVILLE, November 14.—The meteoric shower occurred this morning at three o'clock and lasted till 6:30. The display was one of the finest ever seen, exceeding at times that of 1832. The whole heavens appeared to be traversed by meteors, and especially the northwestern portion. Many of them were very brilliant. Occasionally one would explode, lighting up the heavens with an intense light.

MEMPHIS, November 15.—The meteoric shower seen here at four o'clock yesterday morning is said to have been very brilliant.

After this defeat the allied army went into camp at Palmes. Address of the Puerto Principans—Withholding a Cable Dispatch Not True—Preparations to Receive the Fillibusters—Course of the Captain General Approved—Oath of the Havana Junta.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Herald says: A private letter from a prominent insurgent in Cuba states that the revolutionary Junta in Havana has sworn to destroy the property of every individual who shall, under his signature, offer his life, wealth, or protection, in favor of the Government causes. In no other case shall property be attacked.

HAVANA, November 14.—The inhabitants of the city of Peurto Principe and vicinity have issued an address to the Capt. General of Cuba, Lersundi, regretting the depredations of the revolutionists in various parts of the Island and offering their services to quell the rebellion. The signers say they hope for a speedy peace, and believe the inauguration of the reforms given by the mother country will soon bring about that result. The document is signed by the most influential portion of the population, many native Cubans, and among them Varona. The address is almost certain to exercise a great influence throughout the Island, as it is well known Peurto Principe has always been considered the principal stronghold of the Republicans.

Captain General Lersundi denounces, as a falsehood, the statements published in certain New York journals of his having prohibited the American Consul from sending a dispatch by the Cuba cable to Washington, asking the American government to send a squadron to Cuba. The following is authoritatively given as the true version of the affair: The American Consul wished to telegraph to Washington that Puerto Principe had revolted. Captain General Lersundi, certain the intelligence was untrue, convinced the Consul of that fact, who immediately and voluntarily withdrew the dispatch.

The dispatches from New York announcing the attempt to organize a fillibustering expedition at that city and New Orleans against Cuba, were promptly received here. The Captain General is also in receipt of dispatches to the same effect. All the necessary precaution has been taken to receive the invaders. The Spanish war steamers are cruising about the coast.

Col. Quiros has returned to Santiago de Cuba, from the insurrectionary districts. He was unable to remain there any longer, as he was without provisions and the region was entirely bare.

Captain General Lersundi has received a dispatch from the Provisional Government at Madrid approving his course in every particular. The dispatch mentioned the fact of the appointment of Gen. Dulce as Captain General of Cuba, who was nominated on account of the receipt of the resignation of Lersundi.

HAVANA, November 15.—The rebels have appeared on the railroad track between Newvitas and Puerto Principe. They captured a train of cars with a number of passengers on board. Four of the latter were retained as prisoners and the others were allowed to proceed to their destination on hand cars. The baggage cars were plundered of their contents, and the railroad track torn up for a considerable distance.

Heavy and continuous rains during the past week, have prevented cane grinding on the plantations.

The United States Flag Ship Cortocoock, has arrived at this port from Norfolk.

Fillibusters in St. Louis—Eight Skeletons Unearthed—Supposed Murderer Arrested—A Large and Destructive Fire.

ST. LOUIS, November 14.—The Times of of this morning says about thirty young men under the leadership of two or three old fillibusters held a meeting here last night and an organization was effected with a view to raising recruits for an expedition to Cuba.

The Buker Hill (Illinois) Gazette states, in substance, that, in a barn attached to a place where a tavern has been kept for years near that town, the remains of three human beings have been found buried beneath the barn floor, and that the skeletons of five other men, supposed to have been murdered, have been discovered in the neighborhood of the same premises. The innkeeper has been suspected of having been engaged in robbery and murder for years. The Gazette says he has been arrested and is now imprisoned awaiting trial, bail having been refused.

The large hardware house of Skinner, Neal & Co., on Main street, between Vine and Washington avenue, took fire about six o'clock to-night, and was almost totally destroyed, together with the Queensware house of Westerman & Meir, on the south. The latter house was completely gutted, but some of the stock will probably be saved. Skinner, Neal & Co.'s stock was valued $75,000, and insured as follows: Liverpool, London and Globe, and Ætna of Hartford, $1,000 each; Charter Oak of Hartford, $2,000, and $5,000 each in the Howard of New York, Girard of Philadelphia, Phœnix, Pacific, and Lumbermans and Mechanics, of St. Louis; Hartford, Connecticut, British and Mercantile, London and Edinburg, Naragansett of Providence, Merchants of Chicago, and Pacific of San Francisco. The stock of Westeman & Weir was valued at $45,000 and insured for $30,000, mainly in home companies, the South St. Louis, Jefferson Mutual, St. Louis Mutual and Washington Mutual being among them. The extensive dry goods house of Henry Bell & Sons will suffer some loss from smoke, but no estimate can be made of it to-night. The buildings were owned by Chas. P. Chanteau and valued at about $12,000 each, on which there is an insurance of $5,000 each.

Chas. B. Lord, Judge of the Circuit Court, died this afternoon.

The Times states that a gentleman who left this city yesterday for New York, was authorized, on behalf of a prominent friend of McCoole, in this city, to arrange for a fight with John C. Heenan, providing the terms, place, &c., could be agreed upon.

The report from the east that Dublin Tricks has brought suit against McCoole for money due him as the trainer for the Coburn fight, is authoritatively contradicted here.

Prisoners in Aracibo—Those Taken in Arms Will be Shot—The Island Tranquil—Insurrection Against the Baez Government Still Progressing.

NEW YORK, November 14.—The Herald's Porto Rico correspondent says that from eight hundred to one thousand prisoners are held in Aracibo, some of them being the most prominent men in the Island. Those taken in arms are to be tried by military courts, and will probably be shot. The island, according to the government, is now tranquil. Advices from St. Domingo state that the insurrection against the Baez government is in active progress.

The Reed-Gleeson Case—Governor Reed Wants a Written Opinion—Card from A. W. Sanders.

TALLAHASSEE, November 14.—There is no new phase in the impeachment matter. The citizens are much interested, but no excitement prevails. The counsel for Gov. Reed are J. P. Sanderson, of Jacksonville, A. J. Peeler and M. D. Papery, of Tallahassee, and those for Lieut. Governor Gleeson are ex-Governor Walker, of Tallahassee, D. P. Holland, of Savannah, and F. A. Dockey, of St. Augustine. With the exception of the last named all are ex-rebels.

TALLAHASSEE, November 15.—Governor Reed, in a requisition to the Supreme Court for a written opinion on the legality of the impeachment, refers them to an article in the constitution providing for an extraordinary session of the Legislature by which only such business can be transacted as is mentioned in the call or brought before them while in session by the Governor, except by the unanimous consent of both houses. He also states that the four persons who voted as Senators were not entitled to seats by his proclamation declaring their seats vacant, they having held since the last Legislature, one the office of Secretary of State; one that of Circuit Judge; one that of Clerk of Court, and the other that of Solicitor. The Senate is composed of twenty-four members, and Governor Reed claims that there were only eight present, consequently no extraordinary session convened, and their acts are of no force. The Governor says the officers of the State do not know, in the unsettled and anomalous condition of things, whom they should recognize as the head of the Executive Department. The administration of the State Government is obstructed and the peace and welfare of the whole State jeopardized, and he asks that their opinion on the points subjected be given at the earlicst moment.

Saunders, independent candidate for Congress, in quite a lengthy circular to the voters of the State, denounces the nomination of Hamilton by the Republicans as a fraud on the colored voters, and says Hamilton's supporters boasted of having cheated the colored voters out of their last chance. Saunders, in a circular dated headquarters of the Union League of Florida, addressed to the members of the League says the Republican Nominating Convention have put up a man whose name alone insures defeat, and calls on the colored Repnblicans to send a live black man to the next Congress. Saunders signs himself Grand President of the Union League of Florida. The Democrats have adopted Grant's motto, "Let us have peace."

Gen. Butler Writes Another Letter.

LOUISVILLE, November 14.—The Courier-Journal publishes to-morrow a private letter from General Butler, in which he says: "That we are politically opposed, I think, must arise from the different light in which we see the same thing. The South has no firmer friend than I am, and ever have been. It is a part of my country, and although I may misjudge in the best way to preserve the South from the consequences of what I must regard as a great crime, and still worse, a blunder, yet I would do anything could I be convinced it would tend to the prosperity, quiet and regeneration of the South as a part of my country. I bear no hatred towards the South or Southern men, as such, if I know my own heart, but I am opposed only to those who still war upon the best interests of the country, as I understand them, and that opposition from the very necessities of my nature will be a stern and unyielding one. I hope to see you and assure you in person that I can be as ardent a friend in peace as I was a determined and unrelenting foe in war."

The Courier-Journal says of this: "As a partisan we have untiringly fired the heaviest guns in our battery at General Butler. When he soars higher and demonstrates that his will is equal to his capacity for good, our guns shall be spiked or turned upon those who may assail his acts in our behalf."

—At a banquet given by the founders of the co-operative societies at Vauxhall, in Paris, one of the speakers made the following pun upon being called upon to say a few words: "My friends, let us drink to the health of Fennimore Cooper, the first founder of co-operative societies." —"Why, Walter," cried his mother, "I am astonished! The idea of your wishing to go down to the ressrvoir on the Lord's holy Sabbath, to go swimming with a lot of bad little boys!" "Boohoo!" blubbers Walter, "I didn't want to go swimmin' with 'em, ma; I only wanted to go down and see the bad little boys get drowned for goin' a swimmin' on Sunday—boohoo."—Sacramento Union.

—When a newspaper tells us that "the seven prettiest girls of New York city are engaged," we are disgusted. What business has a paper to announce anything of the kind? If the girls are as modest as they are pretty, they surely must object to be blazoned about in this way. And at least the Home Journal might have paid a little attention to grammar and have said "the prettiest seven."

—Of course Victor Hugo has written the Spanish Revolutionists a letter, a revolution would hardly be a revolution unaccompanied by an epistle from the great novelist. We believe he actually did once have the insane idea of keeping South America supplied with letters, but he soon gave it up for want of time, and perhaps also on account of the tremendous expense so many letters would have been to him. But all revolutions out of South America can depend on him.

—A woman has been sentenced to two months in the penetentiary from Rochester, N. Y., for taking her walks abroad dressed in traditional male attire. We did think, from the rapid changes in fashions, that a woman might wear anything now-a-days, and we do think that any law proscribing any decent style of dress for either sex is tyrannical, and unworthy of the country and the century in which we live. We have seen women dressed in long clothes like a baby and they were not arrested, we have seen them at theatres in the undress of the figurante, and they were unmolested, but in Rochester the ordinary clothing of a man it seems is considered indecent, and the female wearer is punished.

—We notice that those papers which are most severe on the immoral tone of the French press generally publish translations of most of their brilliantly immoral mots. These may be published with the best of intentions, but they can and do have their effect in America, where they are almost universally read and commented upon. To be sure we are hardly as immoral, yet as the French nation for these witty immoralities are as yet imported, but surely and not very slowly, we are learning to furnish for ourselves a stock of these questionable witicisms. If respectable journals would exclude from their columns all of these things flavoring of the police journals and the Rue Breda, the vulgar papers, being read only by vulgar people, would have a monopoly to which they should certainly be welcome. If young men would decide to use no language and tell no annecdotes at any time that they would not at all times, the boys who are growing up might remain ignorant of a great deal of wickedness, a knowledge of which is by no means necessary, and it is only the youth and journalalism of the country which can turn back the rising tide of impurity.

Philadelphia Pavements.

MESSRS. EDITORS: We, in Pittsburgh, had thought that we had the best pavement possible in our Nicolson, and with pride show it to our friends when they come to town, and we have reason to be proud. I dare say that our property holders on Wood, Fifth and other streets of the city, would not take any reasonable bonus if a man would come and want to give them back their old cobble stone pavement instead of the Nicolson.

Yet, as much as the Nicolson has the advantage of the stone, yet it has some very objectionable features—two of which are, first, its disadvantage when any repairs have to be made in gas or water pipe, so much more of it having to be taken up than should be, and if any less than a full set of boards is taken up, it leaves the pavement in that place liable to become uneven. The second and greatest objection is, the imperfect means used to preserve the lumber and blocks and the evils resulting therefrom. In coating lumber with tar, only a very little of it enters the wood, and the wood is not by this coat rendered water tight; and even if it were, constant wear on the exposed end of the blocks wears it off. The rain and sprinkling carts keep the pavement constantly moist. Now, such being the facts, there is nothing to prevent the albumen of the wood from fermenting, thereby, not only producing decay in the pavement, but endangering the health of the whole community, as the decaying matter in the wood will cause malería to be generated and produce disease.

The Stafford Pavement Company claim to have entirely overcome these objections, more especially the latter—having embodied in their patent Mr. Robbin's process for treating wood, which renders it imperishable. The process is to charge the wood with carbolic acid, (creosote) or any other oleaginous substance applied in the form of a vapor, which thoroughly enters the wood in every part of it, and also the heat used coagulates the albumen, and evaporates the lighter and watery portion of the sap, replacing it as above, with this oleaginous substance. Creosote, or carbolic acid, being a great disinfecting agent, no maleria can be generated, and it is death to all insects or animalcules that could be generated, were the generation of such in the least degree possible. Government tests have shown the wood treated by this process to be one third stronger than before. Scientific journals and eminent men all over the country have endorsed Mr. Robbin's process, and even old Harvard has come out in the persons of her president and a number of her faculty with an endorsement of the process.

The Philadelphians begin to see the immense advantages of this, the Mayor and committees from Councils are going to Boston and Concord to examine into the merits of the case. Your correspondent has been invited to join them, and will on returning let you know the result of the investigation. W. E. C. M.

PHILADELPHIA, November 12th.

A FARMER near Richmond, Virginia, has raised two crops of potatoes and one crop of turnips from the same piece of ground during the present year. He first planted potatoes in the spring, and gathered a fine crop. He then removed the vines, prepared the land, and planted it in turnips. The last crop of potatoes began growing on the 17th of August.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with six and a half feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant.

The only arrival we have to record is the Kenton, from Portsmouth. The Mary Davage, from St. Louis, is expected to arrive to-day.

The Bellevernon left for Evansville on Saturday with a very good freight list, and a fair number of passengers.

The R. C. Gray is about due here from Cincinnati, having left there for Pittsburgh several days since.

The Bayard, Captain A. S. Shepard, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The new steamer Arkansas, Captain A. H. Shaw, is filling up rapidly for New Orleans, and will take her departure forthwith. The Armadillo, Capt. D. H. Swaney, is also announced for the same point.

The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, is announced to take her departure to-day for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi.

The high-headed Leonidas, in command of Capt. Ed. Evans, formerly of the Westmoreland, is announced for St. Louis.

—A total rise of ten feet is anticipated at St. Louis.

—When the Louisiana passed New Madrid 12,000 sacks of corn were lying there for shipment and they were still hauling.

—The Helena, sunk some forty miles below Sioux City, has proved a total loss, and very little of the cargo even will be saved.

—The dredging boats at the mouth of the Mississippi have deepened the channel from eleven to fifteen feet, and are working steadily away.

—Wyman X. is the name of a dinkie steamer just finished, to run between St. Paul and Taylor's Falls. This must be some connection of the stern-wheeler Wicked D.

—A meeting of delegates from the different local Captains' Associations will be held in St. Louis to consider matters of great importance, one of which is the rates of freights.

—The Dubuque Herald says that Mike McCoole is now mate on the steamer Belle of Memphis. We hope that the statement is true, for we like to see people try to make an honest living.

—The towboat Charles Bowen will be sold by the United States Marshal, at Point Pleasant, West Virginia, on the 1st of December, and the Victress, at Gallipolis, on the 10th of November.

—At Louisville, a falls pilot is soon to be elected by the City Council, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Wm. Smith. The Democrat says there will be a number of candidates.

—Pat. Cavanaugh, hall tender on the St. Paul packet War Eagle, was killed the other day near St. Paul, when attempting to separate two of the boat hands in a fight. Mike Hays, the murderer, escaped.

—The machinery of the Missionary has been removed by the Underwriter, and brought up as far as Columbus. The boat herself is "done gone" broke in two. The Underwriter has gone to the sunken Mollie Hambleton.

—The Arkansas is receding, with three feet in the channel from Little Rock out, and twenty inches above there, White River is falling, with eight feet in the channel to Duvall's Bluff, and three feet above that point.

—All of the Northwestern Transportation Company's steamers, with the exception of the North Alabama, have gone into winter quarters at Sioux City, and marine ways are being built in the bend of the river below town, on which they will be docked and otherwise improved and refitted for next year's business.

—The Gallipolis Bulletin says: The new boat building for the Gallipolis and Syracuse trade, by Capt. J. S. Dowery, is to be named "Nannie D." She will be sidewheel, one hundred and thirty-five feet long and twenty-four feet wide; will have a saloon cabin, with rooms for ladies. The Nannie D. is being built expressly for the trade above named, and we predict for her a successful career.

—The trial of the case of Judge Sidney A. Hubbell against the Western Union Railroad Company—suit brought to recover damages for personal injuries received by the explosion of the boilers of the steamboat Lansing—in the United States District Court in Chicago, came to an end on Monday afternoon. The jury awarded the plaintiff $12,000 damages. A motion has been made for a new trial.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Saturday: B. A. Britton and family, of Kansas, took passage on the Shamrock, at St. Louis, for Cincinnati, bound ultimately for Pennsylvania. Yesterday morning Mr. Britton died on the boat, at our wharf, of consumption. His family and the corpse left on the Major Anderson last evening. Mr. B. had been a Union soldier during the war, and had been wounded.

—The R. C. Gray left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Thursday evening, with about all the freight she could carry, including 100 tuns pig metal at $3,50; 400 bales of hay at $5; 100 bbls cement, 25 barrels of lime, 60 barrels of flour, 1,200 bags of wheat, taken from the Clifton, 180 bales cotton, 15 tuns scrap iron, 10 tuns hardware, and a large amount of bacon and other freight. She was drawing five and a half feet. Pilots, Thos. Morris and James Shouse.

—The Louisville Democrat says: If there is anything that will make the Louisville and New Orleans Packet Company's line of steamers popular with the public and successful in business, it is punctuality in leaving port. They intend to make this a "big thing," and it is certainly right. The public have been deceived so often by boats "laying over," that they have had very little opinion of what a steamboat captain or agent said about the time of boats leaving. Stick to it, gentlemen; it will pay. Go when you're advertised.

OMAHA.—None of the six or eight Benton steamers which have been expected down so long, yet make their appearance, and we guess the most of them are booked for wintering among the wilds of the Upper Missouri.—Republican, 8th.

MUSCATINE. — It is said that movements have been inaugurated for extending the White Collar Line to New Orleans —the entire navigable length of the Mississippi. Three new boats, to be modeled after the Phil. Sheridan, have been ordered.—Journal, 9th.

THE ELECTORAL MEETING.

GOV. GEARY has issued his official proclamation announcing the election of G. MORRISON COATES, THOMAS M. MARSHALL and twenty-four other citizens, the Republican nominees, for duty as Presidential Electors, and notifying them to assemble at Harrisburg on the First Wednesday in December next, to cast the Electoral vote of the Commonwealth, agreeably to the Constitution and Laws.

IT IS highly probable that Gen. GRANT, in making his appointments, will not prove unmindful of the claims of worthy and patriotic soldiers upon the nation's generosity and remembrance.

THE LATE EX-GOV. TOD, of Ohio, had just been chosen one of the Presidential electors of that State. The vacancy in the College will be filled by the remaining electors, pursuant to the Federal statute.

IT IS ANNOUNCED by one of those knowing fellows, a Washington correspondent, that the foreign appointments will all be made by Mr. COLFAX, and that he will select literary gentlemen for the positions.

GOV. BROWLOW'S MESSAGE to the Tennessee Legislature sharply denounces the enfranchisement of rebels. It says that "some may deserve it early, but others only after the national debt is paid and the franchise restored to the half million of Federal soldiers whose bodies lie mouldering in the fields of the South."

IT IS STATED as "by authority" that the Union and Central Pacific Railway companies have come to a "mutual agreement that their respective lines of road shall meet and unite at a point one hundred miles west of the northern extremity of Salt Lake." One result of such an agreement will be the cessation of the extraordinary exertions lately made by each company in pushing the work of extension, and, probably, a much earlier suspension of all work for the winter. The Fourth of July next is now suggested as the day when the opening of the entire line is to be formally celebrated, and upon a magnificent scale.

OUR SATURDAY'S issue contained the announcement of Sheriff S. B. CLULEY, of a number of lots, pieces and parcels of land to be disposed of at public sale at the Court House on the 7th prox., to satisfy judgments entered against them. The list embraced several very choice and desirable pieces of property which should command the attention of capitalists or those wishing to secure homesteads. In connection with our notice of the sale it may not be out of place to add one word of tribute to the present incumbent of the Sheriff's office, whose administration of its affairs has excited universal satisfaction. Mr. CLULEY has made a faithful and efficient officer, serving the people with ability and impartiality, and insuring for himself a public confidence and esteem which he will carry with him into any new position in life he may assume on the expiration of his term of office.

MESSRS. PETTENGILL, BATES & Co., of the world known New York advertising agency of S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., propose entering into a newspaper enterprise which will not, however, interfere with the regular business of the firm. They will issue on or before January 1st, 1869, the initial number of a rural and family weekly paper, to be devoted to all that pertains to country life, entitled Hearth and Home. It will not be partisan or sectarian, but so conducted as to find welcome in every household. DONALD G. MITCHELL Esq., will preside as editor-in-chief, and will be assisted by a full corps of editorial associates, prominent among whom will be Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE. Such a journal as this promises to be will supply a long felt want in this country, and its success may be regarded as warranted in the integrity, energy and enterprise of its proprietors.

THE GREAT REPUBLIC closed her general elections with the first week of November, and Great Britain entered upon a similar contest the week after. The parliamentary election throughout the United Kingdom commenced on Friday last, and closed with the week. We shall speedily learn the result, upon which depend the composition of the next House of Commons, and the fate of the present DISRAELI Ministry. While the Liberals, under Mr. GLADSTONE's lead, have been sanguine, in anticipating a decisive majority against Ministers in the new House, it has been predicted that the Ministry would develop very considerable popular strength, and that many constituencies would disappoint the expectation of the Young England party. Unless a decisive Liberal majority of the new members be secured, DISRAELI will retain power, and by his fertility in political expedients, will succeed in strengthening a Ministry which has, very recently, seemed to be on the brink of dissolution. The details of this general election will come to hand this week.

A SIGNAL SERVICE.

The friends of the Union in Pennsylvania gratefully recognize the solid value of that service to the purity of Justice and the impartial administration of the Law, which was rendered by Justice READ, of the Supreme Court, in his bold and timely promulgation of the provisions of that law, in their bearing upon the Democratic conspiracy to defraud the people of the Commonwealth at their recent elections. We perceive with pleasure, that the rulings from this Judge, at the October Nisi Prius term in Philadelphia, upon the very important issues rising out of the exposure of this conspiracy, and which demanded judicial consideration, have been accepted by the great body of his fellow citizens as not only just in themselves, but as largely influential in effecting the deliverance of the ballot-boxes from an imminent and alarming danger. The influence for good, of those rulings, cannot be too highly estimated. It is not unlikely that the plot alluded to was thereby defeated, and in no other way. A vast number of fraudulent papers of naturalization are known to have been prepared, for the express purpose of swamping the honest votes of a majority of the people, but the holders of these papers, whether the engineers of the infamous scheme, or their ignorant instruments, were thereby deterred from their use, while many more voters, of the same Democratic party, disgusted by the unanswerable revelations, either abstained from voting at all, or quietly united themselves with the friends of Gen. GRANT. This was a good deal better for our people, than if we were now to find ourselves defrauded, dishonored and defeated, as are our friends in New York, by the success of a flagrant villainy. Of the two situations, we prefer our own, and have no hesitation in acknowledging that much is due, therefor, to the active and thorough determination of our Philadelphia friends, and to the prompt and most meritorious interposition of Justice READ, in defense of a violated law. This Commonwealth needs Judges who shall handle crime, of whatever nature, in root or in branch, without gloves—and let us be thankful that we are not entirely without them!

IRREGULAR DIPLOMACY.

The revelations of the hour are bringing out an explanation of the extraordinary course of Mr. JOHNSON, the American Minister to England. There are reasons for the belief that the Minister has followed faithfully the line marked out for him in the instructions privately given him by the President, in respect of which Secretary SEWARD was neither consulted nor, has he had any special advice. In no other way can the Department explain the concessions with which the Minister has admitted the validity of England's claim to the absolute right of recognizing the belligerent states of the rebel Confederacy. This point has been steadfastly resisted in all the Secretary's preliminary negotations, and was therefore regarded as the main obstacle in the way of any adjustment of the entire controversy. If the Minister has now conceded that point, he has done so in the face of all existing instructions from the Secretary, who does not hesitate to convey to any of his friends the impression that the responsibility therefor rests upon the President himself.

In whatever irregular way this reversal of our diplomatic position may have been brought about, it must not be forgotten that the point in question does not affect substantially the justice of our claims against England, growing out of the depredations of the "Alabama" class. The two governments came, nearly a year ago, to the same ground touching the absolute responsibility of England for damages resulting from her non-execution of her own Neutrality Laws. It is believed that this agreement has, in effect, entirely covered the dispute, leaving out only the technical question as to the sovereign discretion of a foreign power over her relations with other nations. As long as all the facts and so much of the law of the case as abundantly meet all the solid issues between the two countries, were thus concurred in by both parties in the negotiation, we have never been able to perceive the necessity for delaying its prompt solution, by the waste of time upon a practically immaterial point. We shall not, therefore, make any haste to denounce the President, when the event may prove that he has rendered a distinguished public service in thus cutting the Gordian knot of red-tape diplomacy. He may have conceded to England only that sovereign right which the Republic may find early occasion to maintain for itself. He may have thus, in effect, matured the equitable adjustment of a very grave international dispute, and upon terms which shall completely satisfy our own National policy of preferring to preserve the substance, regardless of its shadows. Without the most profound confidence in the President's habitual prudence and judicious treatment of emergencies, it is not difficult to believe that he may occasionally be found right, and that his uniform ill-fortune in domestic questions may be varied by a lucky stroke of foreign diplomacy. Let us know more of the facts, from both Washington and London, before we condemn the results. In the meantime, our own critical public may employ itself, far more justly, in censuring the semi-official indiscretions of the Minister himself, whose after-dinner speeches at public meetings, and hand-shakings with notorious rebel sympathizers, are reported every day by the cable. Whatever valuable results may officially attend his mission, Mr. REVERDY JOHNSON's informal appearances before English audiences have not been in a rôle at all satisfactory to his countrymen.

THE REPUBLICAN FUTURE.

The friends of the Union propose to run the machine of Federal government not only for the next four years, but, under the favoring confidence of the people, for several successive terms of the same length. To this end, they have, by large majorities, selected the incumbents of two, of the three, co-ordinate departments of that government, with express reference not only to their personal fitness for their responsible duties, but to their entirely harmonious accord with each other, and with the principles and policy which their constituents have approved. The politicians who make a trade of public affairs, and drive that trade for personal profit, are about to realize that their vocation is forever gone under the new order of things. We invite this class to reflect that, for so much of virtue as may appear in their attachment to true principles, that virture is to be its own abundant reward. Politicians of this sort are never statesmen, so long as events prove them to be incapable of a large and unselfish devotion to the solid interests of the Republic.

But the true statesman is also the wise and practical politician, basing his own capacity for usefulness entirely upon such political principles as commend themselves to his critical judgment, and which promise to accomplish the greatest good for the greatest number of his countrymen. Thus the party of the Union embodies large numbers of distinguished men, whose influence in national affairs is precisely commensurate with their constant and radical fidelity to the few simple, but potential principles which have just won their completest triumphs.

The Republican Union party has no negative elements. It is radically, aggressively positive, as far as concerns these principles, and it proposes to uphold them with a positive and marked support, which shall result in engrafting them inseparably upon the National policy for all coming time. Does any sane man suppose that we enter upon this great duty, expecting to complete it without the aid of our friends, or by the assistance of those who lately opposed us? Is it the radical Union party which won the recent elections, and now proposes to manage the Government machine by its own strength, and under the broad title which bears the great seal of the People, or are we to proceed, for four years to come, under sufferance from our enemies, taking counsel either from them, or from that noisy class of politicians whose only claim upon our grateful attention comes from their inability to embarrass us with their doubtful aid when we were struggling for the right? It is not in the latter way that we understand the present situation. This government is hereafter to be conducted by statesmen who are not only politicians, but of that thoroughly uncompromising Radical type which secured, the other day, the approbation of a half million popular majority. They will execute their several trusts, at whichever end of Pennsylvania Avenue, with most scrupulous fidelity to those principles which led to their election, and in harmony with each other. President GRANT and the Union majority in Congress will never forget their obligations either to each other or to the majority of the people. They will look, for their support, to the authority which created them, and will find, in that direction, their only line of policy. We are to have a Republican administration, in Republican hands, sustained by Republican majorities, and always faithful to Radical and positive Republican principles. Every public trust will be committed to Republican hands—live, earnest and efficient hands—and will deserve the public confidence accordingly. Both Congress and the Executive, elected by Republican votes, know that Republican votes must be their only reliance for support. They will not attempt to do Republican work with uncongenial or faithless instruments. The majority, who have won supremacy, expect themselves to wield it. They who earned the victory will, in the proper time and in due order, themselves take care of all its fruist, without asking leave from either their opponents or from the huckstering swarm who are just now so clamorous at the doors of the market-place. And this, if we are not egregiously mistaken, is the deliberate expectation of the victorious party, from the highest to the humblest. If any one thinks otherwise, he lays up for himself an unpleasant disappointment—and at no very distant day.

THE Jackson Clarion, a leading Democratic journal of Mississippi, accounts for the freedom of that State from the bloody conflicts of race which are seen elsewhere, and for the era of good feeling existing between the white and black races in Mississippi, as follows:

"Because the white people of Mississippi, pending the late canvass, seeing that the negro had become invested with the tremendous responsibilities of suffrage, did not blindly and stupidly leave to aliens in their midst the business of instructing him upon the nature of those responsibilities and of the consequences involved in his refusal properly to perform them.

"And there is another reason, stronger still. It is because reconstruction was not accomplished on a wrong basis. So malignant a partisan as Charles Sumner does not stagger upon the truth in his blind pursuit of the South, but he stated it exactly, without designing to apply it in the direction where it is properly located, when he wrote, the other day, that there 'can be no conflict of races where there is no denial of rights.'"

MR. JOHN. M. LANGSTON, of Ohio, unites with a committee of citizens of his race in North Carolina, in calling a Convention of the colored people of the country, to be held at Washington on the 3d of March next. We quote from their "call:"

"To the Colored People of the Country—Fellow-citizens: The struggle between freedom and slavory is over. Freedom has triumphed. Our rights as men in this country have been vindicated. We are men, and part of the body politic. For our redemption from slavery we owe our thanks to the great party of progress and humanity. In the contest to decide this question General Grant carried our standard, and it is to-day crowned with glory, and he is our President. On the 4th day of March, 1869, he is to read his inaugural in the city of Washington. Will it not be a proper time for the people to thank the party that gave them these blessings by having delegates from all parts of the country to assemble in Convention on the 3d of March, 1869?"

A DIVISION OF NEW YORK.

The Republicans of New York, outside of the metropolis, are of one mind, that they have been long enough afflicted with the lawlessness and partizan villainies of that great city. They propose now to cut loose from Manhattan Island, by erecting it into a separate State. A Rochester journal, summing up the long catalogue of metropolitan rascalities which the rural districts are powerless to prevent or to punish, remarks, in support of the proposed division:

We have only to obtain the consent of the State and of Congress, and we are then relieved of all further trouble. Let the new State be called Manhattan, or perhaps, if the New Yorkers like it better, Tammany. We will not stand upon the name, provided we can be rid of them. It would be entitled, as now, to nine Representatives in Congress, two Senators, and eleven votes in the Electoral College. We should then secure, without fear of fraud and corruption, twenty-two Representatives and two United States Senators on the side of Freedom, and twenty-four votes in the Electoral College. The population of the new State would be one-third that of the present State, equal with Massachusetts, equal with Michigan and New Jersey together, with Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont and New Hampshire altogether, equal with Indiana, and equal with Kentucky. It would stand sixth in population in the order of States.

THE SENATORIAL QUESTION.

EDITORS GAZETTE: The Presidential contest over, the next question of a political character, that interests the people of Pennsylvania, is, who shall be United States Senator in the place of Mr. Buckalew? Of course he will be a Republican; and he should be a staunch, uncompromising Republican. The honor and dignity of the State, as well as her interests, demand the selection of a man whom we can trust and who will not falter in his advocacy and support of the progressive and innovating policy of the Republican party. Pennsylvania does not want a laggard, but a leader—not one who will "fall in" at the behest of others, but one who will march in the van, and by his example, induce others to follow.

Such a man is Thomas M. Marshall. Relying at an early age upon his own efforts, and not having any of those external associations and influences that so frequently foist men into prominence, he has felt the strokes of adversity and learned the lessons taught by work, and in spite of all obstacles has become one of the foremost men of the State. Politically, he has pursued a consistent and progressive course, never for one moment wavering in his support of that policy which has culminated in our nation's regeneration. Morally courageous, his inquiry is not as to the expediency of any proposed change, but is it right? Long accustomed to the controversies of the forum, he has acquired that knowledge and undergone that discipline which eminently fit him for the immediate discharge of the duties of a Senator. Generous and just in all his social and business relations, he has the confidence of every man who knows him.

Having hastily reviewed Mr. Marshall's qualifications for the position of Senator, let us look for a moment at some other considerations that should influence our course in this matter. The Western part of the State is entitled to the Senator, and we must have him; and if we would have him we must select an available man. That man is Mr. Marshall. He is known all over the State, but particularly in the Western part, and in my judgment, the vote of this end of the State will be cast almost unanimously for him. Some one has written, however, that "Republics are ungrateful." I don't believe it. He has labored for the party for twenty-five years. Everybody knows that he has labored unceasingly. He has never received any reward, nor does he claim any, for he fought for the success of his party purely from a sense of duty. Shall such steadfast devotion fail to elicit commendation?

I have written more that I had intended, but I want to say one word more. I have no axes to grind; want no office for myself or friends. I offer the above suggestions in no spirit of selfishness; but as a Republican—a working Republican—who wants the man chosen who will fill the position with credit to himself and the State, and who at the same time is characterized by those progressive tendencies which will assure his support of the great reforms yet to be inaugurated. I earnestly hope that Thomas M. Marshall may be our next Senator. B.

Opinions of the Press.

[From the Independent Republican.]

At a meeting of the Republicans of Susquehanna county, held at Montrose, November 9th, 1868, the followiug preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The next Legislature will have to elect a Senator in place of Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, whose term expires on the fourth of March; and whereas, Only a tried and true statesman should be chosen to that office—a man whose political record is without a stain, and who combines ability and exalted character with Legislative experience, therefore—

Resolved, That in Hon. Galusha A. Grow we have such a man. For twelve years a Representative in Congress, through the most trying struggles that have marked our history as a nation, he never, in a single instance, faltered or deserted the cause of freedom; and in the days when to be an anti-slavery man was a reproach, he stood firmly for the right; resisting fearlessly all the schemes of the slavery propagandists. As a legislator and public speaker, he has devoted the best portion of his life to the advancement of the principles of the Republican party. His long experience as a member of the House and Speaker of that body, fits him in an eminent degree for a seat in the Senate of the United States, and we therefore earnestly recommend his election as due alike to his integrity of character, his ability as a statesman, his experience as a legislator, and his unswerving devotion, through a long period of public service, to liberty and equal rights.

[From the Indiana American.]

The public newspapers everywhere are expressing their preference for Mr. Grow. There are other gentlemen, no doubt, whose claims will be pressed for the position of United States Senator from Pennsylvania, but as yet there is none so generally spoken of as Mr. Grow, who stands the peer, in excellence and endowments, of any man in the State. He is a tried and true man, a man of unimpeachable integrity, and a patriot entertaining enlarged views of public polity, possessed of vigor and energy to perform all the arduous and perplexing duties of the Senatorial office.

(From the Brookville Republican.)

Not the least of the duties that our next Legislature will have to perform is the election of a successor to Mr. Buckalew. The names of quite a number of worthy gentlemen have been mentioned in this connection, of whom we might name Hon. Thos. M. Marshall, of Allegheny; Hon. G. A. Grow, Hon. A. G. Curtin, and others. Either of these gentlemen would fill the position, doubtless, with honor and credit; but we deem it the duty of the Republican party at this time to make the selection from that class of men whom heretofore have not taken part in the contests for that position. A young man, up to the requirements of the times on all questions that are likely to come up for consideration during the ensuing six years. Such a man we believe is found in the person of Hon. G. W. Scofield, our newly elect Representative in Congress. Our opinion of Mr. Scofield has been expressed often heretofore in these columns, and we now but have it to add that in no instance have we ever desired to take back one sentence that we have uttered in his favor, but would make it stronger, as his official acts fully justify us in doing.

(From the Venango Citizen.)

We have in the West a man with all the qualifications necessary for the position; a man that has stood up for twenty-five years and labored with success for the principles of Justice and Right. A man that has neither asked reward, nor allowed his friends to reward him. A man that stood up and advocated the principles of our party when the party was young and few in numbers. A man that advocated the doctrines because he believed them right, and not because he expected to be rewarded. Need we say that we refer to the Hon. Thomas M. Marshall, of Allegheny county. He would be a bright and shining light in the Senate, and would be a useful as well as an ornamental member. Let us give Marshall a united delegation from the west, and the east will, as in justice it should, concede his election.

[From the Mauch Chunk Gazette.]

The new Legislature of Pennsylvania will elect a United States Senator to take the seat now filled by Senator Buckalaw. A number of names have been mentioned in connection with the position. Our own choice is the Hon. Morrow B. Lowry, of Erie. He has been the recognized leader of of the State Senate for years and has had few equals as a sound legislator and skilled parlimentarian in that body. He would ably represent the interests of the Old Keystone in the United States Senate.

(From the Blair County Radical.)

Elsewhere we publish a communication recommending District Attorney Carnahan, of Pittsburgh, for United States Senator, as we cheerfully will any other communications in favor of any Republicans for the position. In the selection of a candidate for that important post we hold it the duty of Republican jounalists to give publicity to the opinions and wishes of the People. Of course, in doing so, we give but the preferences of the correspondents.

(From the Johnstown Tribune.)

John Scott of Huntingdon.—He is a man of the Schuyler Colfax type—honest beyond cavil, earnest in everything, ideal by instinct, with a mind capacious of principles, pure in his associations, and a devoted lover of his country. He is a very Scot of Scotts as everybody knows who knows him, and the tunica laticlavia can fall upon no one who will wear it more becomingly.

Charles Wyndham has been sworn in as administrator of the Government.

It is stated on good authority that the new Governor General will leave England sooner than was expected. It is thought probable that he may arrive by the steamer Austrian due here in a few days.

The Dominion Privy Council left for Ottowa this morning.

THE GREAT MEDICAL MISTAKE

Of former days was an utter neglect of sanitary precautions. No efficient means were adopted for the prevention of sickness. Sewerage was unknown in cities; drainage was rarely attempted in the country. Heaps of offal were left to rot in the public streets, and domestic cleanliness, the great antidote to febrile diseases, was sadly neglected. It is not so now. Wise laws, philanthropic institutions, and a vigilant sanitary police, have, to a great extent, remedied the evil. Nor is this all. PREVENTIVE MEDICATION has helped materially to lessen the rates of mortality. It is not too much to say that TENS OF THOUSANDS escape sickness in unhealthy seasons in consequence of having INVIGORATED THEIR SYSTEMS IN ADVANCE by a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This pure and powerful vegetable tonic and alterative comprises the extracts and essences of a variety of roots and herbs, renowned for their strengthening, soothing, vitalizing and purifying properties. These medicinal agents are incorporated with a spirit absolutely free from the acrid poison which defiles, more or less, all the liquors of commerce, and their effect is diffused through the whole frame by this active, yet harmless stimulant. The result is such a condition of the system as renders it all but impervious to the exterior causes of disease, such as damp fog, sudden alternations of temperature, &c. Strength and the perfect regularity of all the functions of the body, are the best safe-guards against atmospheric poison and the effects of unwholesome water, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the best strengthening and regulating medicine at present known. For dyspepsia and billiousness they are a SPECIFIC ABSOLUTE.

LET ANY ONE TRY A FEW BOTTLES OF DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE AND IT WILL ESTABLISH ITS MERITS BEYOND CONTROVERSY.

We feel, in whatever we say in its behalf, that we are conferring a benefit upon thousands of people who would be benefitted by its use. Take any large audience or gathering of people, pay attention for a moment, and see if one out of every ten is not afflicted with a cough. There is no cough without some difficulty of the throat or lungs—trifling it may be at the outset, but gradually growing more and more fearful, until the constitution, at last, is made to succumb to its ravages; and what would have yielded in the beginning to a few doses of medicine has become a fearful lesion, involving life itself. No one can be too careful at this season of the year, to the first premonitors of pulmonary disease, and when a remedy like the one we have named, is within the means of all, the salutary advice which we have given should not be disregarded, Sold at the great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street,

Shipment of Gold—Supposed Lost Schooner Heard From.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 14.—The steamship Golden Age sailed to-day for Panama with $330,000; $220,000 for New York, and $106,000 for England.

The schooner S. D. Bailey sailed for Victoria, British Columbia, on May 15th, with a cargo of general merchandise, valued at fifty thousand dollars. Not having been heard from for six months, the vessel was supposed to have foundered at sea and all aboard perished. Under these circumstances several insurance policies were paid. It now appears that the schooner arrived safely in Port Nelson, New Zealand. The Captain disposed of the cargo and pocketed the proceeds. The insurance companies are losers, as the policies also provided against barratry.

The concession to the Mexican and Vera Cruz Railroad Company has been finally agreed to.

A bill in favor of the American Railroad and Telegraph Company has passed a second reading.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

☞ LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed To THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 14, 1868.

The entire market in Wall street to-day is reversed, and money, which was looking again towards extreme stringency, became easy to-day, and an ample supply of funds was offered to stockdealers, the consequence, was a general advance in all the principal railroad shares, especially Erie, which jumped from 36¼ to 44⅛. It is reported that an immense short interest has been created recently, and that the combination have determined to carry the stock higher than ever it was. New York Central and the Ohio & Mississippi shares are in a like condition. Fort Wayne is liable at any moment to advance, and so is Cleveland, in which large sales have been made recently and were not covered at the decline.

The Government bond market was higher to-day, but there is no disposition yet to buy at present quotations, and most of the large holders are selling out in anticipation of lower quotations. The result of the last Presidential election had been discounted after the State election, and the banking institutions in Europe do not have the power to buy and hold American bonds to such an extent as before. The Bank of France and the Bank of England have lost a large amount of specie, and, consequently, have put up the rate of interest—a 4 per cent. interest in London and 3½ in Paris would withdraw a large amount of capital temporarily invested in this country. European markets have now offered such a variety of loans which will yield as much interest as American bonds and are nearer home. For these and other causes, a decline of bonds may be looked for, and likewise, an advance in gold will take place.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, November 13, 1868.

The market is quiet but steady, and prices are without quotable change. There is a continued fair demand from consumers for immediate use, though the policy of buyers generally is to buy just as little as possible, with a view of having just as little on hand the first of the year as possible. Besides the stringency in money matters has the effect to retard business and restrict operations, and stocks, generally, particularly of eastern irons, are pretty well reduced.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 14, 1868.

The week which has just closed, has not, we regret to say, given any evidence of that improvement which has been so long and anxiously looked for, and what is worse still, the indications at present are not very favorable for such a desirable event. Distrust of the future is the main cause of the stagnation which prevails at present, though the stringency in money matters has much to do with it, and we do not look for any permanent or material improvement until these obstacles to trade are removed.

APPLE BUTTER—Dull and unchanged at 70 to 75 in kegs, and 80 to 85c, in crocks.

APPLES—In good supply but with a continued steady demand, prices are sustained, ranging from $2 to $4 per bbl.

BEANS—Unchanged; sales of small white at $3,75 to $4 per bushel.

BUTTER—Is in steady demand, and prime to choice Roll is selling in a regular way at 38 to 40c.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is dull but unchanged, at 4½ to the trade, and 5 cts in a retail way.

CIDER—Is dull and nominally unchanged at $6 to $10 per bbl, as to quality and size of barrel.

CRANBERRIES—Supply in this market exceedingly small; prime eastern cultivated at $23 to $24 per bbl.

CHEESE—Is dull, but prices are without quotable change.

CESTNUTS—Quoted at $6,50 per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged; we quote Peaches at 12 for quarters, and 14 for halves. Apples 8 to 10 cts.

EGGS—Unchanged at 33c.

HOMINY—Is quoted at $6,50 to $7 per barrel.

HAY—Baled Hay continues dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand; we continue to quote at $18 to $24, for common to prime timothy.

POTATOES—Quiet and unchanged at 70 to 75c in bulk, and 80 to 85 in sacks—for car load lots.

ONIONS—Continues very dull, and small sales are making at $1,50 to $1,75 per bushel.

FEATHERS—Unchanged at 75c to the trade, and 80 to 85 for small lots in store.

PROVISIONS—Small sales of Shoulders at 13¼; and 18 to 19 for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard 18, and Mess Pork $30,50 to $31.

SALT—Is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $1,75 on track, and $1,90 to $2, in store.

GRAIN—The Grain market continues exceedingly dull, and there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations, There is no price for Wheat and we can say nothing about it except that the tendency continues downward. Oats quiet and unchanged; may be quoted at 64 to 65 on track and wharf, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Corn is dull, and drooping; sale 1 car new at 75 and one at 70; old corn cannot fully be quoted above $1 for mixed to $1,05 for Yellow, although holders generally are asking $1,08 to $1,10 for the latter. Rye is dull, and cannot be quoted correctly; we are cognizant of an offer having been made to sell 4,000 bushels at $1,39. Barley, also, is dull and irregular, with buyers at $1,75 to $1,80, and sellers at about $2.

LARD OIL—Is scarce and in demand, with sales of No. 1 Winter strained at $1,50.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the market is dull, prices have undergone no quotable. We continue to quote good to choice Spring Wheat brands at $7,50 to $8 per bbl. Rye Flour, $8. The Pearl Mill prices are for Extra Family in barrels, $9,90 and in sacks $9,60 per barrel; Double Extra Family in barrels $10,40. and in sacks $10,10 per barrel. City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and in sacks, $9,50; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,30, and in sacks, $10 per bbl.

TALLOW—Prime rendered is in steady demand at 12c.

WHISKY—Is quiet and unchanged at $1,20 for both Highwines and Rectified.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, November 14, 1868.

GENERAL REVIEW.

The market was decidedly dull and panicky during the early part of the week, and prices declined materially; since then, there has been a slight reaction, and Refined, particularly for this month, advanced again. Crude did not sympathize with this last movement, and for a very good roason, it was relatively higher than before and has been for some time than Refined. The sales for the week were considerably larger than last week, 86,200 barrels, against 48,600. The shipments of Refined show a slight falling off, 15,099 barrels this week, against 19,909 barrels last week; from January 1st to date, 621,294 barrels, against 570,153 bbls same time last year. The receipts of Crude for the week were 20,360 barrels, against 24,965 barrels last week; receipts from January 1st to date, 626,465 barrels.

CRUDE.

The market was more active to-day, the reported transactions being unsually large, though prices have undergone no quotable change. Ten cents is still regarded as the standard price for almost any delivery with the next six months, that is for 40 to 45 gravity; light oil (40 to 47 gravity) was offered to-day at 9¾c, without finding takers. Sale of 24,000 barrels, on spot—tne largest single operation reported for some years—at 10c; 13,500 bbls on private terms, and 1,000 do at 10c.

REFINED.

The Refined market, particularly for November, continues steady, and prices are fully sustained. We can report one lot of 1,000 bbls, and another of 500, both on spot, at 25¾c; the last half of November is quoted strong at 26¼ to 26¾c. The first half of 1869 is neglected, while the last half is in demand at 33c.

Spanish Statistics,

The population of Spain in 1866, the last year which official returns have been received, was estimated at 16,516,946. The births in that year numbered 612,697 and the deaths were 463,284, the respective birth and death rate being 37,03 and 28,05 per 1,000 of population. These results have been supplied to the Registrar General by Senor Don Jose Ermino de Santos, Director de Trabjos de Oficinar y Secretario-General, Madrid. Mr. Martin, in "The Statesmen's Year Book," records the following particulars for the recent year: In 1866 the Spanish navy consisted of 35 sailing vessels having 641 guns in the aggregate, and 78 men-of-war steamers, with 566 guns and 6,810 horse power. Since then the fleet was to have been increased by two sailing vessels, one frigate, three corvettes, two brigantines, two first-class sloops, eleven second class sloops, three launches, and three transports. The iron clads to consist of three frigates of 103 guns, four screw steam frigates of 186 guns, 12 schooners carrying thirty guns, three transports of 2,600 tons, three paddle steamers and one transport of 690 tons. The navy of Spain was manned in 1866 by 1,121 officers, 12,796 sailors, and 7,890 marines. In 1865 the regular troops were fixed at 100,080, but this number was reduced in 1866 to 38,000 men in time of peace.

The imports from Spain into the United Kingdom in 1866 amounted in value to £5,553,132, while the value of British and Irish exports was £2,336,902. The chief exports of the Kingdom to Spain are linen yarns and linen, averaging in value £650,000 per annum; iron, wrought and unwrought, averaging £60,000, and coals, £225,000 per annum. The principal article of import from Spain into the United Kingdom is wine, the annual value of which ranges from £1,500,000 to £2,500,000 per annum. The progress of Spain is indicated to some extent by the growth of her railways. The length of railways in English miles opened for traffic in each of the nine years, 1856-64, was as follows: 1856, 326; 1857, 418; 1858, 529; 1859, 713, 1860, 1,189; 1861, 1,471; 1862, 1,604; 1863, 2,227; 1864, 2,524.

Cuba, the most important of the Spanish colonial possessions, had a population at the census of 1862 of 1,359,268—white, 764,750; colored, 594.488, of which 368,550 were slaves. The number of slaves who obtained their liberty in that year, either by purchase or by gift, was 1,886.

At Porto Rico, the proportion of slaves was about one-eighth of the whole population. In 1860 the population of the colony was 583,308—white, 300,430; colored, 282,878, of which 41,736 were slaves.

An Eccentric English Nobleman.

The Duke of Portland is in his sixty-ninth year. He is the eldest brother of the late Lord George Bentinck, and owner of magnificent estates in England and in Scotland. After what the French delicately term a "stormy youth," he became, in his father's lifetime, a recluse. It was the late Duke's fancy that there was going to be a scarcity of oak—he did not foresee the iron age—and he planted a tree wherever he could, until his park at Wellbeck Abbey, Nottinghamshire, was almost a plantation when he died, in 1854. The present Duke took up his residence at Wellbeck, denied himself to almost every one, and proceeded to improve the estate, cut down the superfluous timber, and laid out the park on the most improved principles of landscape gardening; constructed one of the most perfect series of kitchen gardens in the kingdom, with hot fruit and forcing houses on a magnificent scale; built stables and coach houses fit for a prince, and much finer than any English prince possesses. In fact the Duke devoted and devotes his time and a large part of his income to putting his seat in the most perfect order of receiving and entertaining in ducal style. But he does not keep any company, gives no entertainments on any occasion, and in fact lived and lives the life of a monk of LaTrappe. He has for some time been endeavoring to convert a stream through his park into a lake six miles long. Hundreds of laborers are employed on this and other work on the estate in hand at good wages, but on one condition—no one to speak to him or salute him. The man who touches his hat is at one discharged. The village doctor and the parson have the same orders. The tenants are informed of the Duke's wishes, if they meet him they are to pass him "as they would a tree." Yet he is constantly about his domain, planning and superintending improvements. He is a capital landlord, both in England and Scotland—drains, builds, and puts farms in first-rate condition. He never shoots, and never allows his English farmers to have the game, even on payment. To every useful county work and every charity he is ready to subscribe. Roads, churches, schools, all are in first-rate order on the Portland estates. He breeds horses, and spares no expense in sires and mares; but if the produce does not come up to his ideal, he shoots them—never sells an inferior horse. Sometimes a cart-load of well bred colts and filies are sent to feed the Rufford hounds.

Of the European sovereigns, Napoleon is a good horseman, but a poor marksman, and a worse swordsman. King William the First rides as a centaur, and fences with the rapier and bayonet, but cannot shoot very well. Victor Emanuel is a passionate hunter, but knows very little about fencing, and is a somewhat awkward horseman. Francis Joseph is mediocre in everything; he sits passably on horseback, is able to defend himself with his sabre against a bayonet attack, and can kill a chamois at a considerable distance with his rifle. King Louis, of Bavaria, dislikes riding on horseback, and hates to have anything to do with swords and fire-arms. The Emperor Alexander is the best, though not the most graceful horseman of the sovereigns of Europe; but he is neither a marksman nor a swordsman. When hunting, he often kills no game whatever.

TRADE MARKS.—The Secretary of State has issued a proclamation, giving notice that the additional article to the treaty of commerce between the United States and Russia, having been ratified by both parties, is now in full force. This article provides that any counterfeiting in one of the two countries of the trade-marks affixed in the other on merchandise to show its origin and quality, shall be strictly prohibited and repressed, and shall give ground for an action of damages in favor of the injured party, to be prosecuted in the courts of the country in which the counterfeit shall be proven. The trade mark of citizens of the United States must be lodged in the Department of Manufactures and Inland Commerce at St. Petersburg, and the marks of Russian subjects in the Patent Office at Washington.

WHEN General Lamoriciere arrived at Rome, a solemn review of the Papal army was held in his honor. Five Generals cantered his by side; among them was the Roman Prince X, whose remarkably martial air and formidable white mustache misled Lamoriciere. "Combien de campagnes avez vous?" (In how many campaigns have you fought?) asked Lamoriciere of Prince X. The Roman warrior, who never heard a bullet whistle, thought Lamoriciere wanted to know how many estates he owned, and replied to the General's surprise, "I used to have five, but have sold four of them."

Improvements in Gunnery.

Captain Moncreiff's new plan of mounting heavy guns, which has just been expermented upon in England, works such a revolution in gunnery as has only been paralleled in the case of the Monitor, being probably destined to do away with forts and protective masonry altogether. His plan, roughly outlined, is this: The gun, of ten or twenty tons, and the gunners, are placed in a hole scooped in the earth the gun being raised to the surface at the moment of its discharge, while the men remain protected, reflecting mirrors being arranged for the sighting; so that even the aiming requires no exposure of an artillery-man, and the only danger is from the enemy's accomplishing the extremely unlikely feat of dropping a shell into the hole. Most of the English journals evade description of the apparatus on the score of the alleged impossibility without the aid of diagrams; but in a few sentences the Saturday Review gives a clearer notion of its working than the lay reader would get from the most detailed account. "Imagine," it says, "a fowling-piece fixed to the top of the back of a rocking-chair, and fired. The chair rolls back with the recoil, smoothly and evenly, without the slighest jar; and, if caught and stopped at the lowest position, the gun may be loaded, and the chair let go, when it must instantly roll back to recover its balance, and bring the gun once more to the top. * * * * The rocking-chair—the elevator, as it is called—weighs some six tons, and the weight is so distributed that in the position of equillibrium the gun is at the highest point." Three men have worked the machine, instead of the ten usually attached to a gun of the same size fired through an embrasure, and the average interval between the shots was less than 2½ minutes. This elevator is expected not only to supercede forts, but, when used on ship-board, to do away with any necessity for iron-clad turrets. Ten years ago, it is said, Captain Moncreiff tried to make the authorities aware of what he had accomplished, but red-tape has withstood him till now.

THE WINTER FASHIONS are even more fanciful than those of summer. Many costumes are made entirely of bright-colored or black cashmere; they are composed of a lower skirt, touching the ground, and bordered by a plaited or fringed flounce, and of a tunic looped up at the sides by rosettes corresponding with the style of the flounce. The upper garment is a half tight-fitting Polonaise, lined with a cardinal pelerine, bordered like the rest of the costume. A wide belt, fastened behind by two floating ends, goes round the waist. The corselets for long dresses are short, and bordered by fringes disposed in shape of a pelerine. The sleeves invariably have seams, and are provided with fancy borders at the wrist, as well as on the shoulders. The skirts are flat in front, the sides cut in an oblique direction, and the seams of the back fringed round the belt. For rich costumes, unicolored or striped velvet, or Scotch plush, are used to a great extent. Dresses of unicolored material are often made to look more attractive by Scotch or striped belts. For city or promenade costumes, English tissue and woolen material of two or three changeable shades is all the rage. The chief ornaments for dresses and upper garments are composed of flounces, plaits, embroidery, two contrasting colors, or stripes of one color in striking contrast with that of the material. Lace is also used with black velvet ground and satin designs; simple or double fringes with satin lace; fur fringes, so called on account of their vapory texture; rich fringes with cord. fringes intermingled with small balls, olives or acorns, all of which contribute greatly to the effect of the costume. Speaking of ornaments, we must not forget that sashes are reigning supreme; long sashes of Scotch or striped satin; sashes with fringes; Algerian sashes; sashes a la Watteau and a great many others, without mentioning the plaited half sashes, and the round sashes fastened at the side by a satin rosette.—Le Follet.

The improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and hall. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. The improvements are a new stone dwelling, with eight rooms; a good barn and other outbuildings. This property is offered at a very low price. Call and secure yourself a good bargain.

ALSO, A FARM OF 120 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 17½ miles from the city, on the Connellsville Railroad, opposite Elrod's Station, within 20 minutes' walk of the Station. The improvements are a frame house containing four rooms and kitchen, with a good cellar underneath; very good barn and other outbuildings. A No. 1 orchard, containing about 200 fruit bearing trees, all in good condition. 90 acres cleared land, the residue in good timber, underlaid with 23 acres of coal.

ALSO, A TWO-STORY BRICK HOUSE adjoining the Borough of Elizabeth, Allegheny county, Pa., containing 4 roams and kitchen. Lot 60 feet front by 136 back to an alley. A good Stable, wash house, bake-oven and other outbuildings. I am authorized to sell it at the low price of $1,800, on good terms.

Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter station. The improvements are a common log house, a good frame barn, with stabling for ten horses; a corn crib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This farm is valuable—first, for its excellent soil; secondly, its timber; and thirdly, it contains more limestone than any other farm in Pennsylvania, all accessible. The lower vein of limestone is 40 feet thick; several other veins ranging from 3½ to 6 ft. in thickness, lie under the whole farm. For particulars enquire of ELI SUTER, Esq., at Suter Station, or at my office.

The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard: one hundred and twenty acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered, and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm.

ALSO, A beautifully situated tract of 60 ACRES of valuable land, under good fencing, situated in McCandless township, Allegheny county, Pa., on a township road, 7 measured miles from the Market House, Allegheny City. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as fine farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each and finished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal (now open,) underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together—houses, fencing, soil, nice lying surface, public highway, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township Westmoreland county, Pa.; well fenced and in a high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling, and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; lane is all underlaid with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

ALSO, FARM OF 160 ACRES, situated immediately upon the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Blairsville Intersection, 54 miles east of the city. The improvements are a two-story stone house of 8 rooms, a No. 1 barn, 43 by 65 feet, the best of stabling and other outbuildings. CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Allegheny Park is being fenced in rapidly.

The Allegheny Mayor's office was devoid of interest yesterday.

Grant and Van Buren streets, and Pennsylvania avenue have been scraped.

One million postage stamps are required to supply the daily demand in the United States.

The Federal street, Allegheny, sewer is being connected with the drain pipes of Ciiy Hall.

The work of grading and paving Miltenberger street, Sixth ward, was commenced an Saturday.

Street improvements are being pushed forward vigorously in this vicinity at the present time.

Prison Discipline.—An interesting article on Prison Discipline will appear in tomorrow's paper.

The laying of the Nicolson pavement on Sixth (St. Clair) street, has been completed from Liberty to Penn street.

The season for balls has fairly set in and persons who delight in tripping the "light fantastic" have abundant opportunities afforded them.

Rare Chance to Buy Real Estate,—On our fifth page will be found an advertisement of an elegant residence for sale. This property can be bought very low. For particulars, see advertisement.

Water Pipe Bursted.—Yesterday afternoon the water pipe on Fourth avenue, in the excavation for the sewer, bursted and filled the excavation with water. The break was repaired, however, before any serious damage was done.

Jubilee in Birmingham.—The Republicans of Birmingham have in contemplation a grand jubilee in honor of the result of the recent elections. It will take place Tuesday night at Eichley's Hall, Denman street, which was used as the Republican headquarters during the campaign.

Election of Officers.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Keystone Skating Rink, held on Friday afternoon, the following Board of Directors were elected for the ensuing year. J. M. Knap, A. S. Bell, D. W. C. Bidwell, C. S. Speer, Phil. Reymer, Jno. B. Jackson, W. B. Wilkins.

Freight Car Damaged.—A freight car on the Pennsylvania railroad was badly damaged by being run into on Friday evening by the locomotive of the emigrant train, which was coming west. The accident occurred at the outer depot. The locomotive was also partially damaged, but can easily be repaired.

A Bluffer.—Wending our way homeward on Saturday morning we passed an intoxicated individual at the corner of Webster and Fulton streets who was boasting to himself that he could whip any watchman in the city if he would fight him fairly and squarely. Whether he was accommodated we know not.

To be Enforced.—Mayor Drum of Allegheny, is determined to rigidly enforce the ordinance prohibiting the running at large of hogs within the city limits. On Saturday quite a number were impounded, and it is the intention to keep the work going until the city is entirely relieved of the nuisance.

Child Injured.—A little girl, whose name we were unable to learn, was seriously injured in Birmingham on Saturday by being run over by a street car. It is stated that she attempted to cross the street in front of the car, when she fell on the track, and before the car could be stopped one wheel passed over her feet, crushing them seriously.

Alleged Dishonest Domestic.—Information was made on Saturday, before Alderman Taylor, by Mr. Daniel Boulton, of the Rush House, against Rosanna Gallagher, one of the domestics of the establishment, charging her with the larceny of household goods and provisions to the amount of fifty dollars. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing. The alleged stolen articles were found at her home, on Webster street, by officer Bell, who searched the premises.

Mr. Walter Brown, the "Portland stripling," champion sculler of America, arrived in the city yesterday, and in company with our fellow townsman Mr. John Hamill, paid our sanctum a visit last night. He looks to be in excellent health and condition. He is here on a brief business trip, but we learn that his many friends of the boating fraternity have arranged to honor him with a testimonial of their regard in the way of a complimentary benefit on Saturday evening next at some of our halls, which will extend his trip. We shall give due notice of the entertainment.

Extensive Robbery.—An extensive robbery is alleged to have been perpetrated on the mail train from the east on the Pennsylvania Railroad, which arrived in this city at two o'clock yesterday morning. It appears that Mr. M. H. Shannon, from Brookville, Jefferson county, got on the train at Blairsville Junction, having in his possession six thousand dollars, as follows: A Five-Twenty bond of '65 for $1,000; two government notes of $1,000 each, and one of $500; from twelve to fifteen hundred dollars in $100 bills, mostly national currency, and the balance in bills of $50, $20 and $10. He alleges that the money was stolen from him while he was asleep. A reward of one thousand dollars is offered for the recovery of the money.

Whitesides & Drum.

It will be seen by their advertisement that this enterprising firm is constantly replenishing its stock and assortments of hardware. We noticed on their counter and shelves an elegant assortment of table cutlery and also of plated ware, all of popular trade marks, and as nearly as possible every article connected with house building. Reader, look in at 79 Federal street, and see for yourself why this store is so rapidly gaining favor, and always so busy.

Brilliant Display of Meteors.

On Saturday morning between one o'clock and sunrise a brilliant meteoric display occurred in this vicinity. The first shower fell between one and four o'clock, and was one of unusual brilliance. A gentleman who witnessed the phenomena says he counted one hundred and forty-three in the space of forty minutes, and another counted one hundred and twenty-five between one and two o'clock. We observed one which came from the region of Orion and passing through the band and almost directly across the central star maintained a direct south-westernly course and disappeared below the horizon, it remained a huge ball of fire and its track was marked by a phospherescent light which was plainly visible for several minutes after the meteor had disppeared. Another brilliant display occurred about four o'clock. Nearly all of them maintained a south-westernly course and came from the vicinity of the north star. Various themes are advanced in regard to this phenomena by scientific men, some of which, however, are rather more interesting than instructive. It seems that the largest number of the meteors are to be seen during the months of August and November, which is explained by the theory that at these periods the earth passes through, in its course, the orbit described by them, in their revolutions round the sun. It will be seen by our telegraphic news that the display was not confined to this country alone, but was general throughout the world.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE.

A Man Shot in Temperanceville—Coroner's Investigation—Verdict of the Jury.

Yesterday morning between one and two o'clock, another human being was hurried into eternity by the hand of a fellow creature without a moment's warning. The case is a peculiar one, and as the matter will probably undergo legal investigation, our readers must be content at present with a mere narration of the facts, draw their own conclusions and make their own comments. It appears that about one o'clock Sunday morning John Dearr, a laboring man, about forty-three years of age, who resides in Chartiers township, about half a mile beyond Temperanceville, having been down in the village was returning to his home, and for some reason as yet unexplained, stopped at the house of William Groves, in Temperanceville, where it is stated he made considerable noise, which led the occupants of the house and those of the adjoining dwellings to believe he was trying to break in the house. The house stands on the side of the hill between two streets, the second floor being on a level with the street above, while the street below is on a level with the first floor. When the noise was first heard it was at the upper side of the house, from where it appears the unfortunate man passed to the lower side of the house by going between the houses and passing over the porch of the adjoining house. It was necessary for him to descend a flight of steps to reach the street from the porch, and as he was descending the steps, Groves, who imagined some one was attempting to break in his house, came to the door of the second story, which opens on the porch fronting the street on the lower side of the house, and having his gun, which was loaded with duck shot, with him, he fired, the charge taking effect in the left shoulder and breast of Dearr. The wounded man ran about twenty yards, when he fell and expired in a few moments. Groves, the man who did the shooting, as soon as he saw the man fall, went to him, and finding him in a dying condition ran for Dr. Boggs, who arrived within fifteen minutes after the shot was fired, but found the man dead. Groves immediately came to the Mayor's office and delivered himself up to the authorities. He was locked up, and will probably be committed to jail to-day to await an investigation.

THE INQUEST.

Following is the testimony taken at the Coroner's investigation:

Dr. J. N. Boggs, sworn—I was called at half-past one o'clock Sunday morning to see deceased; made an examination: found the left shoulder riddled with duck shot, the shot entering from above downwards at an angle of forty-five or fifty degrees, ranging downwards into the chest and lodging in the region of the heart; three of the shot went into the cavity of the chest, lodging in the region of the heart, either one of which was sufficient to produce death. He was dead when I got to him, and I was told that the shot had been fired about twenty-five minutes before I got there. William Groves, the man who shot the deceased, came after me. He said he had shot a man and wanted me to come and see him. He said he was going down the steps from his porch, and from the nature of the wound and direction of the shot I think his statement was correct.

Dr. M. P. Hays, sworn.—I was called to see the deceased about three o'clock; he was dead when I got to where he was lying, which was about twenty feet from the house where he was shot. I made no examination; but if the shot entered the chest, as described by Dr. Boggs, they would produce death.

Lucy Groves, sworn.—Am the wife of Wm. Groves. I went to bed about twelve o'clock. I heard a great noise at the back of the house; heard some one kicking at the side of the house; my husband was in bed at the time. I awakened him and told him there was a fuss at the back of the house, that somebody was trying to break in. He listened awhile and heard the noise; he then got up, picked up his gun, and went down stairs; he called three or four times "who is there?" but there was no answer. I then heard the shot, and came down stairs. I do not know whether I came down before he shot or not; I was so much frightened. I went to where the man was lying. I know the deceased; have known him for six months. Did not know it was him that was at the door; my husband did not know the deceased to my knowledge. Deceased had never been at my house before that I know of. My husband works in Park's steel works; is on the day turn. Mrs. McGibbony lives in the basement of the house in which we reside. We have lived in the house two weeks. I never knew of anybody being at the house after night, except those who belonged there. The first I saw of deceased this morning he was lying where the doctor found him.

Martha Jane McGibbeny, sworn—After one o'clock this morning I heard an unusual noise on Mr. Painter's porch. I live in the basement of the house adjoining the house in which Mr. Groves lives. I heard some one coming down past the end of the house in which I live; he then crossed over my porch and went down the steps to the street; this was about three minutes before I heard the shot; I did not get up until after I heard the shot; I opened the door and Mrs. Painter came in, and after lighting the candle we went out to where the man was lying. I have seen the deceased about four times previous to his death; he had never been at my house. The only noise I heard was caused by walking over the porch, and it appeared as if he would walk a short distance and then fall. I did not hear any rapping.

Sarah Ann Painter, sworn—I live at the house adjoining the house in which Mr. Groves lives; Mr. Groves is my son-in-law; a little past one o'clock this morning my husband woke me and told me to get up, that there were some persons trying to break in the house; I did not hear the noise; my husband looked out of the window and asked who was there two or three times, but there was no answer; I was going to bed again when I heard the report of a gun; I went down stairs and asked my son-in-law what he had done, and he replied that he had scared that man away; I saw something lying a short distance away and went to it myself; found the deceased lying there; don't know whether he was dead or not; I told my son-in-law he had shot the man and he then ran for the doctor.

James Painter, sworn—About half-past one o'clock this morning I heard a noise on my porch and thought there were three men; I thought they were at the window trying to get in. They left my house and I heard them at the next house; I thought they were robbers trying to get into the house; I don't know where the man was when he was shot; I heard the report of the gun, but did not see any one shoot; I did not tell any one to shoot.

VERDICT.

The jury returned the followiug verdict: "That the said John Dearr came to his death in Temperanceville on the morning of the 15th day of November, 1868, from the effects of a gun shot wound fired from a gun in the hands of William Groves, and that the said William Groves was standing on the porch of his own dwelling when said shot was fired.

Quarter Sessions.

The Court of Quarter Sessions met on Saturday at ten o'clock A. M., Judges Mellon and Stowe on the bench.

CONVICTED.

The jury in the Sewickley riot case, after remaining out all night, came into Court and asked for instructions. Judge Mellon gave the required information, after which the jury again retired, and after an absence of nearly an hour returned a verdict of guilty as to Grimes, Little, Grey, Scott and Blackhouse, and not guilty as to Johnson, and recommended the prisoners to the mercy of the Court. Sentence was deferred.

THE O'NEIL RIOT CASE.

J. M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., one of the counsel for the prosecution in the O'Neil Riot case, asked that the case be disposed of. A motion for a new trial had been made and the Court intimated a desire to hear the counsel for the defense on the reasons assigned. The Court then fixed Saturday next for the argument, and stated that the case would be finally disposed of on that day. The case has been pending for some time, and all the parties interested seem anxious that it shall be determined.

SENTENCED.

Charles Seely and Charles Renter, indicted for feloniously entering the tobacco store of J. T. Lacock, Federal street, Allegheny, were called up for sentence. Seely plead guilty some days since, and Renter was tried and convicted Friday. Testimony was offered to show the previous good character of the boys, and Renter particularly established an excellent reputation. Judge Mellon remarked that in consequence of the youth of the defendants the Court would impose a very light sentence, but trusted that this leniency would not be misconstrued. He then sentenced each of the defendants to undergo two months imprisonment in the county jail.

General Council of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

FIFTH SESSION.

SATURDAY, Nov. 14th, 1868.—The devotional services at the opening of the Convention were conducted by Revs. G. F. Krotel and S. L. Harkey.

Resuming the discussion on "Interchange of Pulpits," Rev. G. F. Krotel, D.D., of New York, said: It has been said that from all that has transpired it appears that we have only misunderstood each other, and that we would only have to meet more frequently to come to an agreement on these subjects. Yet, it seems to me that we understood each other just as well one year ago. We then had our discussion, not in public it is true, but in the Committee of Twelve in which precisely the same arguments were used which have been brought forward now. Although we do not see exactly alike, yet it seems to me that we agree in so many points that we ought to labor together. This was substantially our action last fall when we determined to leave this question until God's spirit would lead us to see eye to eye. There was no evasion of the question. We felt that these differences would not be immediately reconciled. It has been said that Zwingle's refusing the hand of Luther was one of the noblest acts of his life. But it has also been well said that circumstances alter cases, and the times are different. All who believe in the doctrine of justification by faith, and are led by the spirit of God, are the sons of God. It is our disposition to recognize them as such, and not simply to say I believe in the Holy Catholic Church. I admit that there are Christians everywhere, and whenever they present themselves I believe that I have the right to admit them to the Lord's Supper and my pulpit. We believe that there is room not only for Polemics but also for Trenics. I shall never permit myself to be held in or bound up by any denominational restriction which would compel me to say to ministers of other denominations, you shall not come into my pulpit. Our brethren in the West will, after while, find out that their views will change, for they have not come into contact with other denominations as we have.

Mr. H. Lehmann, of Norristown, referred to difficulties arising in vacant congregations unable to obtain Lutheran supplies.

Adjourned with prayer by Rev. Prof. Fritscheil, of Iowa.

The National Christian Convention in New York.

At the call of the American Christian Commission, signed by about three hundred and fifty ministers and thirty laymen, residing in all parts of the United States, a National Christian Convention of clerical and lay delegates from all evangelical churches, will be held in the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church, corner Fifth avenue and Ninth street, New York, beginning on Tuesday, November 17th, at 10 o'clock, A. M., continuing in session during the 18th, 19th and 20th instant. Addresses on different topics pertaining to Christian effort will be made by Revs. John Hall, D.D., Phil. Schaff, D.D., Howard Crosby, D.D., Walter Clarke, D.D., George J. Mingris, Cyrus D. Foss, Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., Henry Ward Beecher, and Messrs. Ralph Wells, J. R. Brockway, Cephas Brainard, D. L. Moody and H. F. Dorant. Delegates who pay full fare over either or all the following roads, will be returned free: Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis, Pennsylvania Central, and New Jersey Central.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The entertainments at the Opera House during the past week, with perhaps a single exception, have been slimly attended, solely for the want of attraction. The engagement of Miss Western was a very unsatisfactory one, so far as we can ascertain, to the management, as well as to the public, which clearly indicated its want of appreciation throughout the entire engagement. The stock company at the Opera House is by far the best we have had in this city for a number of years, and every member of the company is daily growing into public favor. The faithful manner in which each one performs the role assigned, and the omission of all outrageous gags, etc., has been generally commended by an appreciative and liberal public.

To-night the inimitable Chanfrau, whose engagement here last year will be remembered by all lovers of fun, will commence an engagement of two weeks, appearing in his most amusing and entertaining character, "Sam." The name of Chanfrau is sufficient of itself to fill the house, no matter what he plays.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—This cosy, comfortable, convenient and once fashionable place of amusement, is again to be thrown open to the public, after having undergone a general overhauling and renovating, under a new management, with a new company, new scenery and brilliant stars. The grand re-opening will take place Monday evening, November 23d, with Miss Kate Fisher as Mazeppa.

BURNELL'S MUSEUM.—At this well conducted place of entertainment the attendance during the week has been liberal, but not so large as the attractions now offered the public should warrant. Major Burnell studies hard to please his patrons, and has collected in his museum curiosities in animal life which would have done credit to Barnum in his palmiest days.

SHAKESPEAREAN READINGS.—At Lafayette Hall Thursday and Friday evenings Mrs. Frances Anne Kemble will afford our intellectual community rare treats in the way of Shakespearean readings. On the first evening she reads "Julius Cæsar," and on the second the "Merry Wives of Windsor." Mrs. Kemble is too well known to need any special word of commendation at our hands, and we trust that here, where true genius and ability are always appreciated, she will meet with that encouragement which has greeted her elsewhere throughout the country. The sale of tickets commences at C. C. Mellor's well known music store, No. 81 Wood street, at nine o'clock on Wednesday morning.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—To-night Mlle. Aline Le Favre, the champion swordswoman of the world, will appear at the Academy of Music in the French Spy, supported by a splendid company. Box sheet for reserved seats open at Kleber & Bro., 122 Wood street, to-day.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—The Varieties Theatre, which, under the management of Mr. Williams, has become so popular, continues to introduce new and attractive features for the amusement of its patrons. Mrs. Annie Hindle, the wonderful Vocalist, will appear to-night. Mr. Eugene F. Governor will also commence an engagement at the Varieties to-night.

A Dishonest Borrower.

On Friday afternoon last Daniel Smith, a somewhat noted character, hired of Mr. Joseph Pender, of Ohio street, Allegheny City, a horse and set of harness, paying three dollars for the same, and promising to return them at night. Night came on, but Daniel failed to appear. Mr. Pender waited until about noon of Saturday, when he called at the Mayor's office and lodged an information against Daniel for larceny. The accused was arrested a few hours afterwards in Sligo, where he was endeavoring to sell the animal and harness, but without success. Upon being taken to the Mayor's office, it was discovered that he had also taken a wagon belonging to another gentleman out of his stable during Friday night, and had disposed of the same for $4. The wagon was valued by the owner at $25.

Daniel had further, it is alleged, borrowed a lot of bed clothing from a boarding house in the Third ward without the consent of the owner. A part of the bed clothing was discovered at his house after his arrest. Daniel denies any criminal intent in the matter, alleging that he borrowed the horse and wagon to do some moving, and on account of the breaking down of which he was detained longer than he expected, but was on his way home to return the borrowed property when arrested. Of the bed clothes he denies all knowledge, although admitting that the circumstances are against him. He was committed to jail for trial.

Henry Vincent's Address.

Mr. Henry Vincent's address, delivered under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, last evening, attracted an intelligent and appreciative audience to the First Presbyterian Church, which filled that commodious edifice to overflowing. The gentleman spoke for fully an hour, and throughout held his hearers in rapt attention. His theme was Christian Associations in relation to the temptations and vices of society in its present condition. He argued that in this age of boasted progress the greatest need of the world was more of that child-like spiritual faith, which alone can solve the problem of human destiny, and rob temptation and vice of their power. The especial work of these associations was to aid the church in the promulgation of this faith by an active, zealous and consistent membership, whose whole lives and characters were molded and fashioned in accordance with its requirements.

The address was one of unusual eloquence and power, and did bohor to the name and fame of the distinguished orator.

Serious Accident.

Saturday afternoon, about two o'clock, a serious accident occurred on Second street, near Try, by the explosion of a coal oil or kerosene lamp, by which Mrs. Nancy Donnelly, an elderly lady, was severely burned. It appears that the old lady had lighted the lamp for the purpose of going into a dark room, when by some accident she let it fall upon the stove. The lamp exploded, the oil ignited, and a portion of the burning oil having been thrown on her clothing by the explosion, she was enveloped in flames. She ran into the street, and the watchman at the railroad seeing her ran to her assistance, and by throwing his overcoat around her he smothered the flames. Her arms are severely burned, but Dr. McMeal, who was called to attend her, thinks her injuries are not of a dangerous character.

Lecture by Mark Twain.

Mark Twain, the first of living American humorists and the only successor worthy of John Phœnix, will lecture under the auspices of the Mercantile Library Association, at the Academy of Music, on Thursday evening next. Mark Twain has a style of his own. He is funny in all things he writes, and indeed we marvel whether he could pen an epitaph of a dear friend or prepare an obituary notice for a newspaper without exercising his powers of humor. If he talks as merry as he writes, there will be a convulsed audience at the Academy on the evenings he will appear. His subject "The American Vandal Abroad" is one of deep interest to all interested in the science of diplomacy, and we trust, will draw a full house.

The place to get White Lime, Calcined Plaster, Hydraulic Cement, is at Ecker & Caskey's, 167 First street.

Another Victory.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Another veteran of the cross of Christ has fought her last battle, conquered the last enemy, Death, and passed safely and happily over the river into the paradise of God.

We refer to sister Hannah Reeves, consort of Rev. Wm. Reeves, D. D., of New Brighton, Pa., pastor of the Methodist Church at Bellevue.

This worthy woman began her career in England in January, 1800, and closed it at the residence of her husband at New Brighton on the 13th of November, 1868.

She was one of the few of her sex who feel themselves called of God to preach the Gospel. This conviction came with her conversion. She entered at once upon the work. She preached acceptably and successfully in England for nine or ten years as a regular itinerant.

In 1831 she came to America, became the wife and traveling companion of our dear brother Reeves, assisting him in ministerial labors, drawing large congregations, to whom she preached not only to their gratification but also to their edification. Her's was a life of labor of usefulness in the master's cause.

During the last four or five years she has had delicate health, consequently remained at home at New Brighton most of the time and preached but seldom, not having physical ability to justify. Sister Reeves was a large woman physically, intellectually and morally, and noted for her individuality and determination.

Her last sickness was such that during the last few weeks she suffered much for want of rest, caused by nervousness, sense of suffocatioa, &c. But she bore it all patiently.

The night before her departure she became very happy and praised the Lord as she had often done. Seeing the end was near she told her afflicted husband "all is well," bade him farewell, and quietly passed away like going to sleep.

Our dear brother is left very lonely, not having a blood relative on the Continent. But he will soon overtake his wife and children in glory. He has the sympathies of all who know him, and an ever present Savior will guide him safely home.

To Poultry Raisers—Thanksgiving occurs on the 26th of this month, and we now give timely notice that we want for that market, only fat, clean, handsome stock. Let all raisers begin now to get their Turkeys, Chickens and Ducks in prime order for that occasion; Geese sell best at Christmas. To dress poultry properly it should first be killed by opening a vein in the mouth or neck, cutting off the head injures the sale; it should be then held by the legs and dipped up and down two or three times in water, nearly boiling hot, after which the feathers are easily separated. When picked it should again be dipped into hot water once, and then immediately into cold water; it should not on any account be drawn; it should be packed in medium sized boxes, say shoe boxes, breasts down, in layers, with nice clean straw between, the boxes being filled so that the contents cannot shake about. Those who take the trouble to prepare and pack their poultry in this way, and consigning to some good Commission House like

The "Diamond" Front.

The Diamond Front Grocery Store, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, still continues to supply housekeepers with first-class groceries at those low rates which have given the house such a wide-spread popularity. In these times of high prices, especially in the necessaries of life, it is a perplexing matter to tell where to get the best goods without paying exorbitant rates. If economical housekeepers take our advice and call at Mr. George's establishment, they will see a solution of this difficult problem. Remember the place, 164 Federal street, Allegheny.

A busy man is a locomotive, and life a track. Every night he drives into "the house," and stops. Every morning he is fired up anew, and away he goes switching off in one direction and then in another. In this routine of business he forgets that the physical organization is of the most delicate kind. If a hard iron locomotive needs constant care, and to be well oiled up and rubbed off every day, how much more necessary is it that all men and women should use PLANTATION BITTERS, which are the ne plus ultra of everything which is necessary to keep the system in a perfect tone of health.

Ladies' First Class Fur House.

The well established and undeniable fact that ladies' furs of the newest styles and finest materials are sold at from fifteen to twenty per cent. less than customary prices, at the popular and recognized headquarters of William Fleming, No. 139 Wood street, has caused quite a commotion among all classes of the community, and serves to daily throng the commodious wholesale and retail salesrooms of that establishment with purchasing visitors. There is a beauty in the business system adopted by Mr. Fleming, and one which is keenly appreciated by the public. While he sells the very best of goods at the very lowest of prices, he also requires strict courtesy on the part of his salesmen in their treatment of visitors, who call to make a purchase or merely to examine the stock, affording a cordial welcome to all alike, and under no circumstance will he allow a false representation as to quality of goods to ensure a sale. Combining a large wholesale trade with a heavy retail patronage, Mr. Fleming is necessarily a large buyer and thus secures advantages which few other houses in the country enjoy, and renders him able to dispose of his goods at a low margin of profit. His stock is always large and full, embracing everything in the way of furs for ladies, children and misses, and gloves, caps and collars for gentlemen, affording most excellent choice and variety. Remember the place, No. 139 Wood street, sign of the great golden hat.
